

Parachute Adams Dry

Rev 20140729

Materials Needed:

Hook: TMC 100, #16-22

Thread: Uni Thread 8/0 Olive, Black, Tan

Tail: Moose Body Hair

Wingpost: Polypropylene Floating Yarn, or Calf Tail, white, orange, or chartreuse.

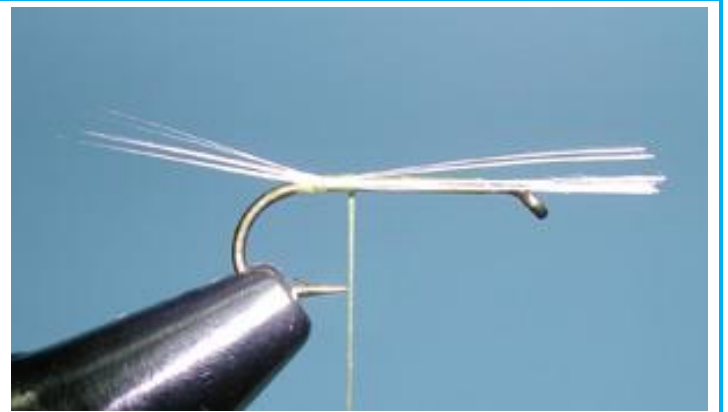

Body: Muskrat

Hackle: Grizzle Hackle to match

Attach thread and apply a small thread mound at the hook bend.

Tie in moose body hair for the tail, one length of hook shank. The thread mound will splay the moose body hair when the thread is tightened behind the mound.

Tie in Wing Post at 2/3 position of hook, then wrap part way up the post.

Apply a small amount of dubbing around the thread to wrap an abdomen. Apply a thinner amount of dubbing closest to the tail so you can achieve a tapered abdomen.

Wrap the dubbing forward, creating a thinly tapered body up to the wingpost.

Tie in the hackle by the butt in front of the wingpost at the shank facing you. The hackle should have the concave side of the hackle facing away from the wingpost. Put a couple of wraps around the hackle stem and shank to secure.

Apply some thread wraps around the hackle and the wingpost securing them together. Also secure the butt end of the hackle to the hook shank behind the eye. Trim any butt material that extends to the eye.

Apply some additional dubbing around the shank at the base of the wingpost. This should be built up larger than the abdomen.

Wrap the hackle 4-5 turns around the wingpost proceeding in a downwards direction.

Trim the hackle tip and apply some additional thread wraps behind the eye. Whip Finish.
